VOLUME XXXXV . . . SPRINGFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

CAPITOLINE '54

. . . SPRINGFIELD, ILLINOIS . . .

BEULAH BARRICK HAL GILMORE GUY KRUMMEL MERLE PARKER
LORENE CAMPBELL SADIE CLAPPER IRENE MASON

The Math Department teachers standing before the posters and projects of applied mathematics in the excellent, frequently changed and widely noticed hall-way case.

DEDICATION

To the Mathematics Department of Springfield High School we sincerely dedicate this 1954 CAPITOLINE.

We humbly honor here seven teachers who, with steadfast resolution, have done so much for our school: Miss Sadie Clapper, Miss Lorene E. Campbell, Miss Irene Mason, Miss Beulah B. Barrick, Miss Merle Ruth Parker, Mr. Guy S. Krummel and Mr. Hal M. Gilmore.

Collectively they constantly strive to uphold and improve the outstandingly high standards of the SHS Math Department, and individually they unfailingly stress honesty with accuracy.

Together they teach a full four years of mathematics courses. Two semesters are offered to cement basic arithmetic. One year of algebra and one of plane geometry are required for a College Preparatory course. Additional semesters, any two making a math major, are offered in advanced algebra, solid geometry and, on the college level, trigonometry and college algebra.

Year after year these seven teachers untiringly build a solid foundation in mathematics for each student. Some students will continue to enlarge their mathematical knowledge as they excel at our country's best colleges. Some will go into various professions in the multi-phase and vitally important fields of engineering and mathematical science, and be successful in their careers. And all of us will employ the basic math learned at SHS in our practical living and, in analyzing life situations, will utilize the straight thinking processes taught us in working mathematical problems.

It is with a deep sense of gratitude and respect that we dedicate this Capitoline to the Mathematics Department.

■ We, the students, have many things that we shall never forget from this school year . . . the thrill and excitement of the first weeks . . . the Roman holidays (teachers' institutes) . . . Thanksgiving, turkey and vacation . . . the Christmas assembly choirs . . . vacation (sigh) . . . semester exams, last minute cramming . . . College days —"Where are you going?" . . . more homework . . . Awards and Recognition assemblies, at last . . . school doors close as summer vacation opens for the . . .

A WORD FROM THE JANUARY SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT . . .

For our small graduation class, the last semester seemed to close all too soon. Many of our group found it hard to believe that our four year career at SHS was over.

Yet we still reflect on our days at SHS . . . our class play, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," our Prom, "The Sleigh-Bell Ball," and all the other outstanding events, now only memories . . .

VICE PRESIDENT

JOELLEN McFARLAND
SECRETARY

KEITH SCHROEDER
PRESIDENT

A WORD FROM THE JUNE SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT . . .

As we say farewell to SHS, we feel a tinge of sorrow down in our hearts. Here, for four years, we have been engrossed in the world of activities of an outstanding high school. Here we have cemented lifelong friendships and gained invaluable knowledge.

It would be but trite to mention the Class of 1954 and its leaders, for in every field —scholastic to extra-curricular to social—we have excelled. It is more important to sound out our future.

We, in a few days, will add the Baccalaureate and Graduation to close the month of May and our high school memories. Then, with diploma in hand, we will go out into the world; and, I am sure, we will go confidently prepared.

Of our class many will go directly to work or possibly the services. Many more will represent SHS at colleges and universities. And some of us will proudly receive scholarships, for we certainly have a lot of "brains" among us.

Yet, as we strive forward in the uncharted future, we will not forget our four years at SHS; we will always be grateful for our school traditions and other components of SHS. To the faculty and the students I, with my fellow colleagues of the Class of 1954, say thank you.

A WORD FROM THE JUNIOR CLASS PRESIDENT . . .

Enthusiasm, co-operation, and participation might keynote any reference to this year's Juniors, the Class of 1955. For in SHS activities—clubs, games, and dances — we have turned out in large numbers. Already many Juniors have eagerly and efficiently assumed the responsibilities of various club offices. Yet our biggest contribution for SHS, I think, has been in its athletics. Many of the Class of 1955 go to make up an indispensable core of outstanding players on all the varsity teams.

I sincerely hope that we have been good followers in our first three years at SHS and that we will be capable leaders in our last one here . . .

AXEL KLEIBOEMER . . . came to Springfield from Berlin, Germany, in January. His classification here was truly a problem, due to the difference in his education. Though a 10", he has had several years of Latin and Greek.

Already well known and well liked he says . . . "I like it very much to be here in Springfield and to go to an American High-School. Of course there are many things different from an European school. But it is great joy to spend my school-time here at the SHS . . . "

A WORD FROM THE SOPHOMORE CLASS PRESIDENT . . .

The prefix "soph" is derived from the Greek "wise" or "wisdom," and just might pertain to our class—if it weren't for a certain line that rings through my empty head—"He knows not and he won't admit it." Sophomores (at least some of us) may be proud of our scholastic record as underclassmen, for this year is often considered the hardest—with increased academic requirements, extra curricular activities, and initiations. Jokingly, many a weary-eyed Soph has staggered into SHS halls on Monday morning with the smell of midnight "oil" still pungent in his head.

We, the Class of 1956, now pause at the midway point in our high school education. I certainly hope that we have developed an unswerving spirit of devotion to SHS and will therefore continue to be a positive influence to our school . . .

A WORD FROM THE FRESHMAN CLASS PRESIDENT . . .

Another deflated Freshmen Class has nearly struggled out of the lower stratum at old SHS. Gone are those dejected looks as we emerged from classrooms. With determined drive we've jumped from the proverbial rut of the "cootie." Determined to work hard, play hard, and cheer hard, in learning those traditions of a great high school, the Class of 1957, I believe, promises to go far as outstanding scholars and athletes.

We, I think, have learned to prize the educational opportunity here offered to all — the chance for one to make the most of his capabilities.

We, as Freshmen, are truly proud of SHS and will certainly strive to make our school proud of us . . .

A WORD FROM THE PRINCIPAL . . .

MR. PERZ SPEAKING TO THE STUDENTS AT A FOOTBALL PEP ASSEMBLY

S-U-C-C-E-S-S is the first line of the most popular cheer in Springfield High School, but it is more than a dash; it is the theme, not only of athletic prowess, but of every class and activity in our school. That we achieve this goal is evidenced year after year by the record of our graduates both in college and in community life.

Each passing year seems to bring new and greater challenges to the high school youth preparing for his future. The manner in which these challenges are met is for us a continuing source of pride and optimism for the future of this land of ours. Every class completing its formal education is more thoroughly, more extensively educated than its predecessor; it has fought for and attained a success undreamed of by any previous generation.

If we keep this in mind, this success story—this Capitoline—will take on a new meaning and will point the way to even greater achievements in another year.

Robert Perz

COUNSELORS COUNSEL COUNSELEES

The counseling system at Springfield High School is unique in that each counselor is responsible for approximately 350 students during their four years in high school. The four counselors give achievement and aptitude tests, assist students in planning their courses, consult with teachers and parents, assist in securing information about vocations and colleges, visit freshmen homes, and assist instructors in supervision of study halls. In addition the counselors keep grade records and mail out work reports each term.

Last year a reorganization of the school's administration seemed inevitable. Mounting costs necessitated the elimination of at least one administrative position. Parents and teachers insisted that our effective counseling system be retained, so the position of assistant principal was abolished when a vacancy occurred.

Miss Steinmiller and Mr. Furry were appointed counselors this year, being transferred from teaching positions in the school.

THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR OUR

The multi-phase task of handling student needs and problems falls on the capable Student Office personnel, Miss Robb and Miss Bryant. Whether it's a lost book, a jammed lock, or a message from home, it's axiomatic for any SHS student to utilize Room 2. Students telephone and buy game tickets in this hub of activity, too. Each period, office assistants deliver various permit and notice slips from Room 2, the school post-office. First aid when the nurse is not at school, planning class scheduling, and a constantly checking on student absences, excuses and cuts constitute the bulk of the work of Miss Robb and Miss Bryant.

Although most students seldom come in direct contact with the Main Office, an immense amount of business vital to the smooth functioning of the school is handled here. Miss Davis handles a somewhat prolific correspondence, typing innumerable letters, besides clearing requisitions for various rooms or the auditorium and welcoming visitors. Miss Atkins is the high school treasurer and supervises book rentals, as well as keeping records of grades and credits, making transcripts to colleges, and handling summer school enrollment.

The Senators football team wound up the season with a three won and six lost record but our squad was a lot better than the record would indicate. Injuries hampered us throughout the season and coaches Bill Roellig and Jack Turner should be commended for their fine job with the boys.

We started the year on Sept. 19 playing host to East St. Louis at Memorial stadium. However, our crew looked ragged and the downstate lads won 21-0. But in our second outing, we got off on the right foot in the city series by downing Feitshans 13-0 in a downpour of rain. The following Saturday we racked up our second victory of the young season with a 20-6 upset win over Cathedral.

Although the Solons played a creditable contest against Lanphier, Oct. 11, we had to settle for a share of the city crown as the Lions set us back 24-20. We started our Big Twelve schedule at Decatur, losing 13-12 in a hard fought contest. We then returned home to be taken into camp by Peoria Central 20-13.

Traveling to Bloomington Friday, Oct. 31, the Solons came roaring from behind to defeat the Purple Raiders 13-9. Then on a chilly night the following weekend the Solons went down to defeat to Lincoln 25-20. We finished the season at Urbana, falling 13-7.

Co-captains Jim Patton and Keith Schroeder along with Gordon Post carried the brunt of the Red and Black offensive attack. Standouts in the line were Merlon Morgan, Bob Malkus, John Stuemke, Dick Helmericks and Tom Hughes.

THE BASKETBALL REVIEW

After three weeks of hard practice, Coach Herb Scheffler's Senators opened up their 1953-54 cage season playing at Athens on Nov. 25. The Solons emerged victorious in this contest, 43-41, with George Kenney and Pete Beardsley each connecting for 10 points.

The Solons then opened their Big Twelve conference play on Dec. 4 at the armory as they bowed to a rugged Peoria Central team 55-44. The season's second victory came the following weekend, as Taylorville fell 58-47. George Kenney sparked with 19 counters. The next night the team bowed to Jacksonville, 55-44. Then, in a row, came two rough competitors: Danville, who took an overtime decision 44-40, and Pinckneyville, the most dangerous foe of the year. After travelling all day, the Senators played a close game on the Pinck's home floor for three quarters, before falling 53-31.

Throughout the season the Solons didn't have much luck, falling to defeat many times by close scores. The only Big Twelve opponent SHS beat was the Bloomington Raiders, who twice fell victims to the squad's attack. Beardsley led the first assault in January with 19 points as the upstaters were walloped 79-50. In the second contest in February the Senators came from behind to whip Bloomington 64-59, in an overtime. Gordon Post was high with 17 points.

In the city tournament at the end of the semester, the squad played perhaps the best ball of the regular season. In the opening round game, Lanphier handed SHS a disappointing defeat, 55-53. Meeting Feitshans, the Solons triumphed with a 53-41 victory.

With a chance to tie Lanphier for the city crown, the Senators fell to Cathedral 53-52 in a heartbreaker, after Feitshans had defeated Lanphier 30-29. Thus both Lanphier and Cathedral shared the city title, as the befuddled judges awarded the Sportsmanship Trophy to no one.

Loyal SHS fans, using the remaining pass stubs on the popular activity ticket, patiently waited for the losses of the regular, "first season" of play to end and the tournament "second season" victories to begin.

THE TOURNAMENT REVIEW

Time: 2:50 p.m. Tuesday, March 2. Students hustled expectantly to the auditorium for the pre-tourney pep rally.

In the eyes of Springfieldians and to some pessimistic students it was just another student rally for a so-so cage team which had suffered more than enough woes during the season. But to the school's personality of the hour, Coach Herb Scheffler, and to his ten gallant men of the hardwood it was a "new season," a "second season."

Miss Marguerite L. Zimmermann, SHS's genial librarian whose fighting words and inspiration had helped to win many battles for Senator athletic teams in the past, took the stage to talk "horse-sense" to Mr. Scheffler, the team and managers, the administration, the faculty and—most of all—the student body. "Miss Z" pleaded with the students to unite behind and support their team in the evening's game—win or lose. To her it all boiled down to a simple recipe for victory. The principal ingredient: self-confidence.

With these factors working on high, the Solons couldn't lose. The Senator warriors took the floor that night and promptly disposed of Virden 66-49.

Thursday afternoon "Miss Z" presented the second recipe, a second bit of inspiring spirit which means so much to a team when the chips are down. Result: in a well-played, ball control match the Solons edged the pre-tourney favorites from Lanphier, 49-47.

Friday night, with almost the entire student body in the armory, the Solons, inspired by another pep assembly that afternoon, whipped another city five, Cathedral, 61-45. Talk of Herb's boys, advancing to the sectionals, took the place of the weather. Sports writers and adults around the city finally began to realize that the Solons were moving, but some still couldn't visualize the Solons continuing their march through a tough sectional which included Trinity of Bloomington, Mason City and Lincoln.

Yet, Trinity fell first in the sectional to the Solon attack, 48-46, before a standing-room-only crowd.

Friday night, March 12: the Lincoln Railsplitters were falsely confident, looking to the state finals instead of thinking about the Solons, whom they had whipped twice previously in the regular season of play. Now, only one game away from a trip to the coveted state finals, the SHS team and students were keyed to the highest pitch of school spirit. And, as victory came, every Senator fan, swept along in the fabulous victory tide, leaped with joy as that final gun sounded, Lincoln losing 39-30, and SHS going to the state.

With that buoyant State Tournament "fever" pervading all, tickets for a once-in-a-lifetime event went fast.

Unfortunately, at Champaign, the Solons ran up against one of the state's finest teams, Pinckneyville, and were defeated, 43-37—but to no shame for the school or the city.

Yes, the Springfield Senators' "second season" was truly spectacular.

Ten vivacious, never tiring cheerleaders did an outstanding job spurring school spirit this year. Win or lose, football or basketball contest, they successfully whipped up remarkable enthusiasm in the team and fan morale, while keeping down the opponent's score. Unusual tumbling acts drew wide approval. The climax came in the trip to Champaign, where their dazzling performance gave backing to the SHS claim that its cheerleaders are the best in the state.

THE BASEBALL REVIEW

Another well balanced Springfield baseball team, coached by Herb Scheffler, turned in a creditable record for the season's play. Few lettermen were on hand when spring training began; yet the young and aggressive squad functioned smoothly before long.

Bob Bast and Dick Helmericks did most of the pitching for the Solons although several other underclassmen received their chances on the mound. Keith Schroeder, last year's leading hitter, had another good season at the plate. Keith, playing second base until Larry Wollan, the Solons' regular catcher, broke his wrist, was behind the plate for the remainder of the schedule. Lowell Dodd, Jerry Tietz, Rich Jacobs and Al Rollet divided the shortstop and third base duties throughout the season.

Joe Victor, Tom Hughes, Jim Slack, Gordon Post and Bob M. Schuster did most of the outfield patroling for the Senator nine. Victor, a Senior, won his second letter for baseball as he turned in a sparkling job in the outfield.

Finishing the regular season with a 9-9-1 record, Scheffler's squad gained momentum as it entered tournament play. Both Cathedral and Lanphier, who had previously defeated Springfield, fell to the Solons, and with a victory over Feitshans the team continued their tourney march, until falling to Decatur in a close contest.

CROSS COUNTRY REVIVED AS FALL SPORT

KNEELING—Jim Redmon, Gene Grant, Delbert Day, Clayborne Dungy, David Wahl, Tom Marvel.

Cross country, an excellent fall conditioning sport, was revived at SHS this year after a three year lapse. Coach John Pecaric did an excellent job in whipping participants into shape for the rough obstacle terrains. The Solons finished fifth at the Big Twelve meet at Peoria, while coming in seventh at the Lincoln district.

Varsity letters went to five boys: Jim Hill, Jim Redmon, Charles LeCrone, Bill Morgan and Delbert Day.

CROSS COUNTRY LETTERMEN WITH COACH PECARIC

The basketball season of course furnished an interlude between the cross country and track tie-up. Yet, before March had gone out, the thinclads were running again. The Juniors easily carried off top laurels, trailed by the Sophomores, then Seniors, in the first track meet, an interclass contest.

Although placing second in the District Meet, the Solons sent five cindermen to the State: Darrell Iverson in the 100 and Jim Hill, Charles LeCrone, George Tinsley and Craig Davis in the mile relay. The season closed with the Big Twelve meet.

TRACK TEAM VICTORIOUS IN STIFF COMPETITION

SEATED—Ted Rose, Tom Huseby, Alan Tiogo, Henry Boyle, Jim Redmon, Delbert Day, Larry Harmon, Bill Deuel, Sigurds Brivkalns.

The track team, ably coached by Jack Turner, again completed a successful season. With both balance and depth, the Senators met the stiffest of competition well.

The city meet highlighted the season. The Solon squad, with points to spare, annexed the title and trophy for the ninth straight season. Craig Davis won both the 880 yard and the mile runs, while Jim Hill captured top honors in the 440.

The varsity thinclads were victorious over Taylorville in a dual meet 65-53, and at the Decatur Open, although SHS fell later in the season to Decatur. In the annual Pana Open, competing with some 40 schools, the Senators finished 6th. In the Lincoln relays, the Solons were third and in the Normal relay they captured seventh place honors.

This year's GOLF TEAM, coached by Mark Peterman, was one of the finest in SHS history. To date the Solon squad has won twice over Quincy and over Cathedral, Decatur, Lincoln, Lanphier, and won the City Crown, while losing only one meet, to Pekin. After walking off with the district laurels, the team went to the State. Outstanding on the squad were Pete Beardsley, last year's state golf champion, and Cullen Patton, holder of the '53 Journal Junior golf crown. Other mainstays, consistently at the top of Peterman's ladder system, were Frank Sparks, Jerry Thomas and Irwin Greenberg.

The TENNIS TEAM, led by Senior letterman Dave Waltz, played well, winning to date two meets while dropping five. Both Jacksonville and Quincy fell to Solon netmen. Stuart Robinson, coaching for his first season, did much to teach the tennis squad the fine points of the game.

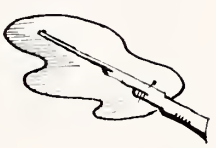
The Solon sharpshooters placed well in the state competition.



All range firing, under Mr. Diller's able instruction, is done at 50 ft. with .22 target rifles in the four standard positions: prone, sitting, kneeling and standing.

Rifle team letter winners were: Walter Blake, Jerry Blank, Richard Ewing, Bill Haynes and Ken Kohlstedt.

A WORD FROM THE FACULTY ADVISER . . .

SHS students were first introduced to the 1954 Capitoline Staff, responsible for this yearbook's publication, in a special assembly early in October. There the editor keynoted the campaign for subscriptions, after the students had been properly and royally entertained.

Prior to the October assembly the staff had met several times to decide on such questions as type of cover, theme, dedication, art work, the index, and other matters pertinent to annual planning. Meetings were held about every two weeks during the first semester, until major problems were settled.

Don O'Hair, as Staff Photographer, took innumerable, interesting pictures of student activities for this annual, while Francine Berning had the responsibility for the more than 1000 subscriptions sold.

The Junior Capitoline Staff, with a burst of enthusiasm, sold more than enough ads for the Student Directory. This popular "buzz book" sold out immediately. The Junior Staff then turned its efforts toward soliciting patrons for this yearbook, while Senior Staff members worked toward final deadlines.

All in all, the Capitoline Staff worked harmoniously and efficiently under the skillful leadership of the editor, John Hoffmann, as the 1954 Capitoline came out — this time, definitely on time . . . .

The National Honor Society stresses constructive scholarship, leadership, character and service to the school. Scholastically a candidate for membership in this honorary organization must have a general high school average of straight B or better, as well as the equivalent of four As and two Bs as semester grades in at least one major subject. Once qualified as far as tangible grades are concerned, the candidate must be approved by the entire faculty on the intangible citizenship qualities.

The Student Council this year made outstanding progress in serving as the representative sounding board for suggestions from the student body. Notable among the successful projects initiated by the Council, ably advised by Mr. A. A. Redding, were a basketball activity ticket, arrangements for a student from the Netherlands for next year at SHS, and a Careers Day questionnaire.

The Pekin District Student Council convention highlighted fall activities. SHS acted as host for this one-day shindig. Cullen Patton, the capable local Council president, presided as the district president; and Miss Mason did an excellent job advising on Convention plans.

Other events included the annual Homecoming Dance, several after-game dances, Freshman Howdy Tag Day and Jean Day.

Throughout the year, regular Friday reports of Student Council actions at the preceding Wednesday meetings briefed the student body on the Council's progress. In a special late April Assembly, Council members reviewed the whole year's activities. Hotly contested elections for new representatives followed, with 45 students running for 18 Council seats.

The Les Bas Bleus, a popular girls' club at SHS, once again is outstanding in its year's activities. Guided by capable officers, the membership, seasoned by club experience as Junior Les Bas, was advised by Miss Wilson.

As Juniors or Seniors, each good Les Bas member willingly took responsibility in such activities as the late March "Spring Fling," where King Keith Schroeder reigned. Club programs included a May fashion show and tea for Les Bas mothers and various club programs by and for the Les Bas themselves, including a talent show, a panel discussion on teen-age problems, a talk by European-traveled Sarah Striebeck, and a play, "Johnny's Monday Rash," written by Carolyn Merriett for English 13.

With traditional generosity, the Senior Les Bas gave to various charities, such as the Community Chest, as well as contributing plastic covers to the school library.

The Wranglers, readily recovering from last year's wholesale cuts in the ranks, started the city football games off with the abounding enthusiasm of the traditional bonfire. In November, preceding the Urbana contest, senior cheerleader Sally Gates reigned as Queen over the well attended "Gridiron Hobble."

Many varied speakers addressed the Wranglers at their meetings. These included State Senator George E. Drach, U.S. Marshal Clyde Townsend, Dick Schofield, a Wrangler last year and a St. Louis Cardinal shortstop now, and Ortheldo, the magician. At the first semester father-son banquet, Russell "Red" Orr, a prominent basketball official, spoke.

All in a year, too, were the Wrangler victories over the Delphics in football and basketball. The Wranglers gave a Christmas party for Boys Farm, after a collection of old clothes.

The beard growing contest, climaxed by the May 8 Barn Dance, fairly well rounded off another Wrangler year.

The Delphics sponsored, after a one year break, the famed Amateur Show. Competing for cash prizes, various SHS students displayed once-hidden talent at this March assembly. The show's participants — including the favorite "combo," abounding with rhythm—journeyed to Decatur High School for a repeat performance. With Decatur's return show in May, this made plans for inter-high school exchange assemblies a reality.

Also, in March, as the Irish holiday approached, the thirteenth annual Delpic "Shamrock Shuffle" held the limelight, with King Pete Beardsley and Queen Sarah Striebeck reigning.

Other dances on the Delphic calendar were the Christmas "Frosty Frolic," with Suzy Washbond as Queen, and two informal after-game dances.

Speakers at Delphic meetings included Bill Miller telling of his hidden mike stunts on WTAX and Bob Hoskins of WICS speaking on "TV in Springfield."

The Cafeteria Council is an outstandingly efficient and well organized club at SHS. Its members serve in some capacity during part of their lunch shift, thus earning a free 45c meal. Courtesy and efficiency keynote every member's daily work, whether it be dish-scraping or the coveted position as checker or cashier.

Under the capable and well liked adviser, Mrs. Lounsberry, the Council meets every even Wednesday morning at 8:00 a.m. for business and refreshments. The club's projects include a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family, an October weiner roast and a May picnic, and a free breakfast before Christmas and Easter for members. The Council also sells Senator pins and pennants, as well as serving punch and sandwiches for a nominal fee at several school dances.

"THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER" . . . AND STAYED

ON STEPS IN BACK—Elaine Coady, Roger Shafer, Alan Davison, Jim Dineen, Rhonda Fink, Mary Ann Ferrantelli.

SEATED—Jerry Tietz, Bennett Stephens, Roy Booker, Kay Fiedler, Marlene Grieme, Pat Elder, Sandra Greenleaf, Jack Sweet, Bill Pike, Dan Ryan.

"The Man Who Came to Dinner," a three act comedy by Moss Hart and George Kaufmann, was presented to two responsive audiences by a well chosen cast of January Seniors and Juniors, November 19 and 20.

Ably directed by Patte Maneese, this class play centered around one Sheridan Whiteside, portrayed by Bennett Stephens. His sardonic comments, bitter retorts, and slapstick stabs at all the other figures of the play created havoc in the Stanley family routine. The play's plot, though simple, was royally spiced with humorous incidents concerning everything from trans-Atlantic calls to a crate of penguins and a mummy case.

Net result: boisterous laughs of enjoyment from the audiences.

"STEP INTO IT AGAIN, MY DEAR"

"OH . . . NO! NOT AGAIN!"

"LIFE WITH FATHER" . . . HILARIOUS HIT

"Life with Father," under the capable direction of Patte Maneese, highlighted the spring events at SHS. Well attended at both performances, April 8 and 9, this class play, based on Clarence Day's popular stories, was truly a hilarious hit.

Centering around the Father, Clare, played by Lynn Hornbrook, the plot contained scene after scene of rare and raucous humor. As the somewhat tyrannical individualist, Father ruled the Day clan. With caustic, if not shrewd comments, he kept things spinning, particularly for the four maids. Indignantly he reprimanded his wife, Vinnie (Marylee Marbry), in the frequent household financial crises, his four sons, and any other character with contrary ideas. In this category falls the minister, Dr. Lloyd (Stanley Orr), who instigated the drive for Father's baptism.

Certainly an outstanding class play was chalked up in the presentation of "Life with Father."

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA FEATURES

The SHS Symphony Orchestra, under the baton of their able conductor, Mr. Ralph Bowen, made substantial musical progress this year, climaxed by the well received May assembly before the student body. Selections ranging from the Rosemunde Overture to Jazz Pizzicato, highlighted the program. The Orchestra also played exceptionally well at their winter concert in late February. Initialed by the spirited strains of our National Anthem and closed by the majestic Great Gate of Kiev, the concert included such well-known favorites as Handel's Largo from Xerxes.

POPULAR AND CLASSICAL MUSIC

The Orchestra performed at Dubois, Hay-Edwards, and several other grade schools, as well as at the two graduation programs. Groups from the Orchestra participated in several distant events, including the March 1 Champaign concert of strings, the April 24 Big Twelve Music Festival at Danville (where the entire A Cappella Choir sang), and the All-State Orchestra programs in both Champaign and Chicago.

Socially, the Orchestra sponsored the popular pre-Valentine's Day "Lover's Leap," where Marian Maurer reigned as Queen.

A WORD FROM THE EDITOR . . .

With a humble feeling of achievement I, as editor, close these pages of the 1954 CAPITOLINE.

Quite frankly this annual job involves an immense maze of details and tedious work. My sincere thanks go to all encompassed in this yearbook task; yet I realize, as in most ventures, what a petty token of gratitude this is in return to one who has done the work of his job. Mr. Robert Furry, even with his new responsibility in counselling work, has, as always, excellently advised the staff as to what was artistically and financially practical.

Our theme has been one of modern geometric simplicity, introduced by this annual's cover — a symbolic showing of the new silver dome of the State House, the political nerve-center of Illinois.

Our yearbook job is done . . . I hope you will honestly consider it well done . . .

John Hoffmann
